Saturday 16th of October is a date that all adrenalin junkies should put in their calendar. Ramblers Drop Zone, in Toogoolawah (near Esk) is holding an event like no other, combining sport and music for a heady day of entertainment from one extreme to another.

Equinox Rocks 2010 is a satellite event of Australia's most well known skydiving meet called the 'Equinox Boogie' which runs every second year for 9 days and attracts over 300 skydivers from all around the Globe. The "Equinox Boogie" is arguably the most important Skydiving meet in the Australian calendar, receiving funding through Queensland Event Corporation.

The first ever 2010 Equinox Rocks Festival will feature legendary rock performer and actor, Angry Anderson, the amazing talents of Dallas Frasca (and her Gentleman), punk rock ladies Legless, amazing acoustic artist Robert Carl Blank from Germany, Sydney Hard Rockers L.U.S.T, Sunshine Coast hip hop act Truth Serum, local rockers Arado, and many other artists (some still to be announced) over 8 hours in an outdoor, all ages extravaganza that runs from 2 – 11pm on Saturday 16th October.

Tandem Jumps are available on the day and camping overnight is encouraged, but both must be pre-booked. Tickets will be available online early August at www.equinoxrocks.com.

Note that it is considerably cheaper and much smarter to pre-book online than take a risk at the gate on the day. There are strictly limited tickets available. For more information you can contact Ramblers Drop Zone skydive@ramblers.com.au or call 07 5423 1159.

A further 6 acts will be announced on the bill early September, and there are still places available. Local artists of any genre who have a "extreme" outlook on their music will be considered foremost. Brisbane acts are also encouraged to get in touch, but a love of skydiving is a distinct advantage.

Bands who seek opportunity to perform at the Equinox Rocks should email an MP3, photo and bio to kylie.cowling@gmail.com by August 20th, 2010.
